Call-in Conversation

Soil Balancing: From ‘Renegade’ Grass Roots Past to Open Future

Description: The history and current use of Soil Balancing provides a rich opportunity to examine the different ways that farmers and scientists develop and use their knowledge.

Join us to discuss what the idea and practice of Soil Balancing currently means to farmers, researchers, and consultants, and to brainstorm ways in which improved soil management can strengthen sustainably-minded farm management.

Call-in Panel: Steve Culman (OSU soil specialist), Doug Doohan (OSU horticultural weed science), Will Glazik (Cow Creek Organic Farm), Doug Jackson-Smith (OSU School of Natural Resources), John Kempf (Advancing EcoAgriculture), Bill McKibben (Logan Labs, LLC)

Contact information: Matthew Kleinhenz | kleinhenz.1@osu.edu | 330-263-3810

Additional conference call-in events planned for November 14 and December 12.
